
Garden Connection

Your online resource for all your gardening questions and problems.

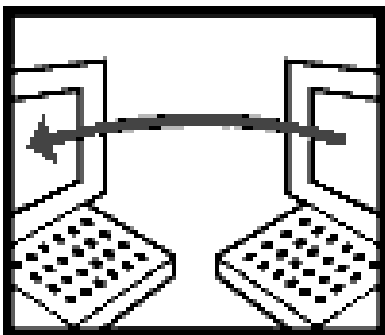

From 24/7, to the worldwide web, to email, to cell phones, we live in a demanding society. Gardening is changing along with the rest of the world. Sunnyside Master Gardeners are responding to the fast-paced world that many of us live in today.

Introducing Garden Connection - the online resource for all your gardening questions and problems. Any time of the day or week, just email us your questions and we will reply within 2 days, with all the information you need to make informed gardening decisions.

Staffed by Master Gardeners trained by Purdue University, you know you will get the kind of information that you need and can rely on.

Need information on what grows in shady, acid soil? Need to know how to prune that rhododendron? Have an insect that's chewing away at your tomato plants? Is there some strange "stuff" on the underside of your dogwood leaves?

We are just an email away at gardenconnection@purdue.edu,

anytime day or night,
any day of the week.
